

NORTHERN ARCHITECTURAL HISTORY SOCIETY

CHRISTMAS EVENT

6.45 p.m. Tuesday 12th December 2017

Neville Hall, Westgate Rd, Newcastle upon Tyne. NE1 1SE

Tickets £15 per head; closing date Tuesday 5th December

The Mining Institute owns one of the finest buildings in Newcastle, Neville Hall, a Victorian building from the time when high-Gothic architecture was coming into fashion. Neville Hall houses the memorial to the Institute's first President, Nicholas Wood, and an outstanding library resplendent with exquisite carved stone, wood and paintings. Together with beautifully decorated ceilings, a vast glass roof and furniture designed for the library in 1872. Our evening will take the usual format of talk and tour, and a buffet followed by an art and architecture quiz presented by Tom Yellowley.
